

ZULLO GALLERY CENTER FOR THE ARTS

Summer Art Class - adults

June-July 2021

Painting Outside - An Introduction Tuesday mornings 9:30-12:30 (5 classes)

An In-person Class! Starts June 8 - on the Zullo deck!

It may be easy to snap an outdoor photo these days but there is no comparison to the absorbing act of distilling intense and changing sensations into something only you can capture. This class takes place on Zullo’s balcony/rooftop deck where we have the benefits of plein air light and subject matter along with the conveniences of a studio. It’s a good way to ease into an outdoor adventure. Our journey will stress process and growth and will cover options for equipment, selecting what to draw or paint, dealing with changing light and atmosphere and the most important elements of drawing (how tall, how wide, at what angle) and painting (values, simplification, color). Some content and work may be done in a Zoom class or in the studio)in the gallery) if we have weather problems.

ALL LEVELS WELCOME!

the instructor: RON KROUK has an MFA from the School of the Museum of Fine Arts and received his BA from Brandeis University. He was also a scholarship student at the Skowhegan School for Painting and Sculpture in Maine. He has drawn and painted since childhood, attended art classes at the Art Students League in NYC while in high school, and studied with Michael Mazur at Brandeis where he gradually found himself moving away from art toward the field of psychology. He worked in that field for several years before returning to art school. In 2010 he retired from IBM, returned to art, studied with George Nick, and is now teaching at Concord Art and Danforth Art. His work has been favorably reviewed by Sebastian Smee in the Boston Globe. Ron is a gifted teacher -- as his many loyal students will attest. He is intrigued by the mystery of representing the three dimensional world in two dimensions and by communicating that to his students. For more about Ron and to see his work go to: www.RonKrouk.com
